INTRODUCTION

Sometimes donating items can feel like a chore; finding out what items are accepted, drop off hours, etc. This directory was created to make it easier for the public to find out what socially responsible thrift stores are near them and how to donate. If there are any stores missing, you can contact us at 709-753-6112 and we will promptly update the directory!

Thrift stores are a great way to reduce waste and help the environment in style. While fast fashion is one of the largest contributors to landfill waste, thrifting promotes sustainability and reuse.

The following thrift stores that have been selected support their communities through directly contributing to local charities and non-profit organizations

METRO REGION

Again & Again Thrift Store

Again & Again Thrift Store

Again & Again is a social enterprise that supports Home Again Furniture Bank in their mission to eradicate furniture poverty on the Northeast Avalon.

Home again furniture bank is a nonprofit organization that provides gently-used furniture to individuals and families in need.

Central to home again is a cycle of giving and receiving that provides our most vulnerable citizens the means to create a stable home life.

At Again & Again, we sell gently-used furniture that are otherwise unsuitable to the needs of our Home Again clients. We paint and up-cycle some of the furniture that we sell in the store, and we also conduct various arts and crafts classes.

Thrifty Fashions (Mokami Status of Women Council)

Thrifty Fashions is the Mokami Status of Women Council's social enterprise thrift store. In operation since 1984, our store sells modern and affordable secondhand clothing. We also offer a free clothing program for individuals in need.

We rely on generous donations of clean and gently used clothing from our community in order to operate. Donations are accepted on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 8:00am to 4:00pm. Our store is open Monday through Saturday from 10:00am to 5:00pm.

When you shop at or donate to Thrifty Fashions, you can feel good about making an environmentally friendly choice and helping us continue to meet the clothing needs of our community. Follow our Facebook page @thriftyfashions to stay up to date with our shop and see new items being added daily. Don't miss out on fantastic finds at amazing prices — thrift is for everyone!
